

Kroll®

About Us

Since 1963, at Kroll Energy GmbH, we have been committed to combining excellent engineering expertise and production power to craft customized solutions with regard to the requirements of our clients.

Whether it's heating, cooling, or dehumidifying, we offer high-quality products tailored to your specific needs. We place particular emphasis on our mobile air-to-air heat pump technology, which has revolutionized the market reflecting our dedication to sustainability and technological progress.

Solutions

Our product portfolio includes a full range of mobile heating, ventilation and cooling solutions for industrial use. In addition, our dehumidifiers provide assistance on construction sites and with water damage.

We meet extensive industrial requirements throughout the entire value chain. From development and production to service, all aspects are managed in-house or through our broad partner network. This ensures the delivery of our well-known quality, proudly made in Germany.
